Retailer Notes:

As this year's Holiday buying season begins, there is surprisingly little scuttlebut floating around, but after a very long wait our new consumer catalog is nearing completion (it's at the printer now). It should ship very soon. Central Park Media continues to release dubs of their back catalog this month with Area 88 and Judge while also debuting their high profile Patlabor series; this initial series is probably the best of the Patlabor offerings. The release of the final installment of the Urotsukidoji series is now available on the Anime-18 label, and is sure to be a big seller. Quite a few new T-shirts

(like the La Blue Girl one which features Miko on the bike ... expect THAT one to move) came down the pike this time, and we've also got Three Sisters Story (an anime adult CD Rom game for PCs that's been translated into English). Time will tell how this game winds up doing, but it certainly has the potential to be huge (as anyone who routinely surfs the net will tell you). At least two more games will be coming shortly. The Ryo-Ohki plush figures sell like crazy at every anime convention we've been to, and we suspect that quite a few of these will go through the doors here as the holidays approach. Finally, this month is the release of Kizuna, which is the first of the Bishonen (literally translated as "two boys") titles to be marketed in the US aimed at the Gay market.

Note: Our new warehouse facility goes on line this month, quadrupling our available space, allowing us to provide you with quicker service, and also allowing us to keep more inventory of the titles you want!

JEFF'S PICK OF THE MONTH

Here is Greenwood is an excellent series, but it's not for everyone (ie: it's still sort of a "girl's" series). Still, it's probably the best thing coming in October. In terms of cool stuff that will go large numbers, I'd opt for the first Patlabor set ... these are far and away the best installments of the series! And, if this Ryo-Ohki is anything near as cool as the ones that pop up from time to time at the conventions (we've not yet been provided a sample), I'd expect to sell a bunch!
